Top 3 ideas will be selected by our judges panel and move on to the final in Vilnius on November 11th where the winner will receive a 15,000 € prize which they will be able to redeem for any chosen online courses in the most prestigious universities worldwide.

Integrity hackathon will also feature a diverse team of mentors and transparency experts who will cooperate with the participants and consult them in aims to create the most innovative and robust ideas.

In addition, one of the core principles of Integrity Hackathon is to foster international cooperation in efforts of nurturing a more transparent climate across Europe.
